Mother goat has to go to the market. The seven little goats stay home, having been warned not to open the door to anyone. However, the fierce wolf soon knocks on the door. By means of ruses he enters the house and eats them all up except the youngest, who is able to escape. Together with Mother goat, he will succeed in saving his little brothers from the wolf's stomach and get rid of him forever. Stuffed with stones, the Wolf will fall into the river and will never frighten anyone again.

Teatro Los Claveles is a company from Murcia. Since 1982 its founders, Paca Garcia and Aniceto Roca, have been creating projects with puppets in Spain and abroad. Artisans of puppet theatre, they have created shows for adult and family spectators with which they performed in countries as far away as Pakistan, India, South Korea, Mexico, Dominican Republic, amongst many others around the world.
